

A Selection of Resources @ VPL

Not all information needed for business is available on the Internet, and not all of what is available is free. Many of the best information sources are still in print or are subscription based.

VPL has an excellent collection of print and electronic resources for business and industry ranging from “How to” guides and standard trade directories through to statistical data for market research, authoritative legal guides, and government documentation.

All branches of VPL include business information in their library and an increasing range of resources are also accessible through VPL’s Web site:

However, the prime location for business and industry information is the Pierre Berton Resource Library. Reference staff there are pleased to receive inquiries from the business community by phone, fax, e-mail, or in person.
