PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to outline the principles which guide library staff in selecting materials for the collection. The policy is also intended to familiarize library customers with the principles with which selection decisions are made at Vaughan Public Libraries (VPL).

APPLICATION

This policy applies to all collections of Vaughan Public Libraries.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The development of collections for VPL is guided by the Canadian Library Association’s Position Statement on Intellectual Freedom (Appendix A) and the Ontario Library Association's position on the Intellectual Rights of the Individual (Appendix B). The collection supports the VPL Mission.

The collection is an unbiased and diverse source of information representing as many viewpoints as possible. Materials selected will meet anticipated and expressed individual and community needs. Materials in languages other than English and French are provided in accordance with the information needs and reading interests of the community.

The collection promotes literacy and enhances the business, culture and heritage of the community, and supports the learning and leisure needs of a diverse community.

Scope

VPL endeavours to provide access to an extensive collection. The resource budget is maximized through coordinated and controlled expenditure strategies within a multi-tiered service delivery framework.

Library Collections

VPL provides collections that range from an emphasis on enriching popular materials to balanced collections of general knowledge, and materials to support literacy for all ages and lifelong learning. Access to extensive electronic resources complements the print collection. Collections float between library locations and do not necessarily belong to any one location.

Branch library collections ranges from 15,000 to 50,000 items while resource library collections range from 100,000 to 150,000 items.

COLLECTION MANAGEMENT

Responsibility for Selection

While overall responsibility for library collections rests with the Vaughan Public Library Board, the responsibility for the selection of materials is vested in the office of the Chief Executive Officer, which delegates this professional activity to qualified and knowledgeable staff.
COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Selection of materials for the collection does not constitute endorsement by Vaughan Public Libraries of either the content or viewpoint. Parents or guardians are responsible for supervising the choice of resources to minors. No item will be excluded from the collection solely because it may come into the possession of a minor.

Selection Criteria

A range of objective measures and standards, including the policies of the Vaughan Public Library Board, are applied when selecting resources. Some or all of the following criteria may be taken into consideration during the selection process:

- Anticipated or expressed needs and interests of the community;
- Reputation and/or significance of the author/illustrator/publisher;
- Comments of professional and independent critics and reviewers;
- Relationship to the existing collection;
- Budgetary considerations;
- Format of material;
- Suitability of physical form for library use;
- Physical limitations of the buildings.

Vaughan Public Libraries does not acquire resources that violate the Criminal Code definition of “obscene material”, “seditious material” or “hate propaganda” and the case law interpreting those provisions, including the application of The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Placement of materials is solely at the discretion of VPL.

New Formats

New formats will be considered for purchase as demand and use dictates. Some resources are purchased in several formats in order to serve all members of the community. Availability of format, cost per item and VPL’s ability to acquire and handle the resource will also be factors in determining when a new format will be collected. Similar considerations will influence the decision to delete a format from the collection.

Multilingual Materials

VPL collects materials in languages other than English or French that are relevant to the community. The decision to establish a new language collection or move a language collection to a different branch is based on census data, input from the community and other supporting statistical evidence.

Customer Recommendations

Library customers may request the purchase of specific materials by filling out the Recommended Purchase form.

Decisions for purchase are guided by the principles and criteria outlined in this policy.
Collection Maintenance

Collections are maintained on an ongoing basis to ensure that materials continue to meet the principles and criteria outlined in this policy.

In addition to the purchase of new materials, collections are maintained by de-selection, identification of gaps, and recommendations/requests from the community. De-selection is the withdrawal of items from the collection that are in poor condition, contain old or inaccurate information, or are no longer of interest to the public.

Reconsideration of Materials

Library customers who object to a specific item in the collection may place a formal request for reconsideration by filling out a Request for Reconsideration form. Completed forms are reviewed and the subsequent final decision is made by the Chief Executive Officer.

GIFTS AND DONATIONS

Donations of Materials

Vaughan Public Libraries may accept unsolicited resources on the understanding that VPL ownership is unconditional. VPL reserves the right to decide whether the resources are added to the collection or disposed of by sale or otherwise. VPL is under no obligation to inform the donor of the decision.

Vaughan Public Libraries has no obligation to retain intact, or to reserve, special library shelving for unsolicited gifts of private collections.

Persons wishing to make donations of books and other materials should consult with library staff.

Tax receipts will be issued, upon request, for donations of new resources with a value greater than $10.00. New material must be accompanied by an official receipt.

If a book is deemed to be rare and is appraisable, a tax receipt will be issued on the appraised value. The cost of an appraisal will be paid by the donor to an appraiser recommended by VPL.

Donated materials are not exempt from de-selection criteria.

Monetary Donations

Monetary gifts will be used at the discretion of VPL to select materials that meet the principles and criteria outlined in this policy.

Monetary gifts will be acknowledged through the Book Dedication service.

Materials purchased with monetary donations are not exempt from de-selection criteria.
Statement on Intellectual Freedom
Approved by Executive Council - June 27, 1974; Amended November 17, 1983; and November 18, 1985

All persons in Canada have the fundamental right, as embodied in the nation’s Bill of Rights and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, to have access to all expressions of knowledge, creativity and intellectual activity, and to express their thoughts publicly. This right to intellectual freedom, under the law, is essential to the health and development of Canadian society.

Libraries have a basic responsibility for the development and maintenance of intellectual freedom.

It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee and facilitate access to all expressions of knowledge and intellectual activity, including those which some elements of society may consider to be unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, libraries shall acquire and make available the widest variety of materials.

It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee the right of free expression by making available all the library’s public facilities and services to all individuals and groups who need them.

Libraries should resist all efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.

Both employees and employers in libraries have a duty, in addition to their institutional responsibilities, to uphold these principles.

ONTARIO LIBRARY ASSOCIATION
STATEMENT ON THE INTELLECTUAL RIGHTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL

In affirming its commitment to the fundamental rights of intellectual freedom, the freedom to read and freedom of the press, as embodied in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, the Ontario Library Association declares its acceptance of the following propositions:

1) That the provision of library service to the public is based upon the right of the citizen, under the protection of the law, to judge individually on questions of politics, religion and morality.

2) That intellectual freedom requires freedom to examine other ideas and other interpretations of life than those currently approved by the local community or by society in general, and including those ideas and interpretations which may be unconventional or unpopular.

3) That freedom of expression includes freedom for a creator to depict what is ugly, shocking and unedifying in life.

4) That free traffic in ideas and opinions is essential to the health and growth of a free society and that the freedom to read, listen and view is fundamental to such free traffic.

5) That it is the responsibility of libraries to maintain the right of intellectual freedom and to implement it consistently in the selection of books, periodicals, films, recordings, other materials, and in the provision of access to electronic sources of information, including access to the internet.

6) That it is therefore part of the library's service to its public to resist any attempt by any individual or group within the community it serves to abrogate or curtail access to information, the freedom to read, view and listen by demanding the removal of, or restrictions to library information sources in any format.

7) That it is equally part of the library's responsibility to its public to ensure that its selection of material is not unduly influenced by the personal opinions of the selectors, but determined by the application of generally accepted standards of accuracy, style and presentation.
