

JELLO Silly Putty

This awesome JELLO silly putty is completely borax and glue-free and is awesome for younger kids who still like to taste things! JELLO gives the slime fruity flavour and changes colour when you mix it. This putty is taste-safe, but it's not a food item and not intended to be eaten in large amounts. Always supervise young children when playing with this silly putty.

Supplies Needed:

- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 package sugar-free JELLO (or any brand flavored gelatin - sugar-free will result in less sticky, easier-to-clean putty)
- 3/4 cup warm water (as needed)
- Cookie sheet or tray (to keep table surface clean)

Directions:

1. Combine cornstarch and sugar-free JELLO powder in a medium mixing bowl.
2. Begin adding water to dry ingredients, 2 tablespoons at a time. Stir until a paste begins to form.
3. Continue to add water little by little until the silly putty clumps together instead of sticking to the bottom/sides of bowl.
4. Finish mixing by hand and play!

Source: <https://thesoccermomblog.com/edible-silly-putty/>

